

At 2020 Behavior, we are proud to have professionals who specialize in promoting Pivotal Response Training (PRT) as a core approach to Autism support. PRT is a highly effective, evidence-based method that focuses on enhancing key developmental areas such as communication, social skills, and motivation.

Focus Areas

- ✓ Increasing motivation
- ✓ Promoting generalization of skills
- ✓ Enhancing social communication
- ✓ Fostering key developmental areas

2020 behavior

Our Contact

www.2020behavior.com

info@2020behavior.com.co

2020 behavior

Pivotal Response
Training (PRT)
Consultations

Contact us to learn how PRT consultations can support your family or practice.

Consultation Benefits

- Tailored strategies to meet unique client needs
- Individualized plans that foster meaningful progress in a natural and engaging way
- Empowering caregivers with tools and techniques
- Ensuring positive behavioral changes extend beyond therapeutic services

Depending on the child's needs and interests, the PRT consultant will guide caregivers on how to facilitate fun, engaging and interactive learning opportunities within daily activities.

The PRT consultant will first conduct a brief parent interview and directly observe the child. Based on the gathered information, they will be able to tailor their recommendations to the family's needs and priorities. The next step is parent coaching, which can occur in person or remotely, to ensure parents feel confident supporting their child's learning through natural, engaging activities.

Estimated commitment:

- 1hr Parent Interview
CPT Code 97151
- 1hr Direct Observation
CPT Code 97151
- 1hr BCBA Report Writing
CPT Code 97151
- 2hrs BST (Behavioral Skills Training) for Caregivers
CPT Code 97156

*The service involves approximately five hours billed at $195 per hour.

2020 Behavior is an Out-of-Network (OON) Provider. We will provide a superbill for all services rendered.